LENA RESERVE

The 207 acre Lena Reserve was purchased by the Town of East Haddam with financial assistance from the State of Connecticut and the East Haddam Land Trust. This former farm land, identified by its many stone walls and several fields, was logged prior to the Town acquiring it. This has allowed much of the area to be opened up, providing a mixed habitat for many species of birds and mammals. Unfortunately, the additional sunlight has also encouraged many invasive plant species to grow with abandon. Working with various conservation partners, The East Haddam Conservation Commission hopes to control the invasives and encourage our native plants.
