A Message from Wild Quail's 2016 Golf Committee

The mission of the Golf Committee is to act as an extension of management in promoting Wild Quail Country Club and providing the members and their guests with a positive golfing experience by offering superior conditions and ensuring fairness in play-

Late last year, the "skeletal" remains of the Golf Committee met with ownership and the Greens Superintendent with the idea of taking more of a collaborative approach in enhancing the Wild Quail property and the playing conditions on the golf course. The outcome was extremely positive and resulted in the development of a mission statement that guides our decisions. The Committee has been very active with evaluating and prioritizing the immediate needs around the course, identifying new ideas and soliciting feedback from members while balancing budget demands. We believe you will appreciate the results and as we approach the start of another exciting summer golf season, stop and take a good look at the changes around your golf course:

- A Pro shop that has evolved into a necessary stopping point where you can easily locate necessary golfing items or manage your handicap, admire the new decor or simply relax on the new porch furniture.
- A beautiful memorial garden that has replaced an aging scoreboard
- Bunker refurbishments on holes 13 & 14 that includes a higher quality sand expected to receive positive feedback.
- A costly but more aggressive crabgrass/goose grass pre-emergent
- The refurbishment of the drainage ditch between holes 15 and 16 that enhances the appearance of the course and outlines a hazard that may now offer multiple opportunities to a player
- A spectator friendly viewing area near the 5th green when tournaments will be concluded there.
- Walking paths from tee boxes to fairways that keep your "Dry Joys" dry
- Numerous cosmetic items including fence repairs, replacing and removing various signs, tree removal and most recently a very successful trash cleanup day.

We trust these changes will meet with the overall approval of the members and help market Wild Quail as the country club of choice for those looking to join a club. Please continue to share your ideas with the Committee members as we are focused on "providing the membership and their guests with a positive golfing experience by offering superior conditions and ensuring fairness in play."
